Messianic Perspectives

Shalom and welcome to Messianic Perspectives – a program aired on radio stations WRKJ 88.5 and WMTP 91.1 in Maine, with the purpose of exploring the scriptures from a Jewish point of view. Paul, whose Hebrew name is Sha'ul writes in Romans 9:4 – 5:

Rom 9:4 the people of Isra'el! They were made God's children, the Sh'khinah has been with them, the covenants are theirs, likewise the giving of the Torah, the Temple service and the promises;

Rom 9:5 the Patriarchs are theirs; and from them, as far as his physical descent is concerned, came the Messiah, who is over all. Praised be Adonai for ever! Amen.

It is from this perspective that we will explore the relationship between the Tenach – the Jewish Bible and the Brith Hadoshah – the New Covenant writings.

Today's topic – The New Covenant Writings

We are currently exploring Matthew chapter 5 and verses 17 through 20. Last time I discussed verse 17 where Yeshua said that He didn't come to do away with but to complete. That completion that He was talking about relates to completing our understanding of Torah and the Prophets.

Continuing on with Matthew chapter 5 and verse 18

Mat 5:18 Yes indeed! I tell you that until heaven and earth pass away, not so much as a yud ( י ) or a stroke will pass from the Torah — not until everything that must happen has happened.

The yud is the smallest of letters in the Hebrew language. It is the equivalent of the Greek letter iota that is translated here. Not so much as the smallest letter that is written in Torah will be removed until everything that is to happen has happened, meaning that nothing will be removed from Torah. This doesn't mean that there won't be a transition because there was. However, the belief by many in the church that Torah is no longer valid is a false teaching. The challenge is knowing what applies and to whom it applies to in relation to the New Covenant.

Likewise a stroke, commonly translated as tittle refers to how the Hebrew letters are written. The difference between the Hebrew letters dallet and resh is a mere stroke of the pen. If you were to change the stroke of the letter, you would ultimately change the letter, thus changing the word and therefore the sentence, thus changing the meaning of the text.

So, when we apply both yud and stroke in the context of what Yeshua is saying, not so much as a yud or stroke will pass from the Torah, meaning what has been revealed by Adonai will remain until all the prophecies and promises have been completed.

How do you know what is valid for believers whether Jewish or not is the question that all believers should be pursuing in order to draw closer to the one who created you. It isn't something that can be answered in the time allotted here. If you are interested in pursuing these questions and others, feel free to visit us on Shabbat and begin a journey that will forever change your life as a believer and follower in the Jewish Messiah.

Over the next few segments I will continue to dissect this passage proclaimed by Yeshua and apply the understanding that is relevant to all believers whether Jewish or not.
